What's New

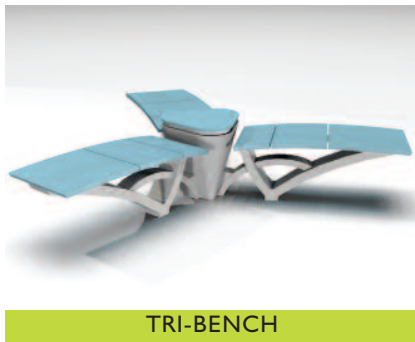

Conceptual Site Furnishings – Fusing form with function and dedicated to designing, engineering and manufacturing innovative, attractive, comfortable and durable furnishings for public spaces. They utilize traditional and revolutionary technologies to provide quality, cost effective and environmentally friendly furnishings.

Recent product introductions include a suite of site secure furnishings utilizing bollards as supports for a complete range of furnishings and the Tri-Bench series of backless bench. Believing that the environment is a precious gift, Conceptual owns a patent for Recor. Recor is an acrylic-based material that utilizes solid surface by-products as filler to divert reusable materials away from the landfills and into the recycling stream. Recor is solid, durable and fade resistant and is available on benches, trash receptacles, table-tops, etc. Conceptual also manufactures a host of furnishings using stainless steel for corrosive and toxic environments.

For those of you interested in making your own statement, Conceptual's Custom Studio focuses on your design ideas to realize one-of-a-kind design concepts specifically tailored to your individual project style and needs.
