FALL CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

From Downtown Colorado Inc. Glenwood Springs, CO ■ Brad Segal, Progressive Urban Management Associates “. . . the following trends support the long-term prosperity of downtowns and neighborhood business districts: 1. Livability as a foundation of economic stability and growth 2. Bottom-up job growth strategies are here to stay and 3. Workers will be the new business location decisions makers.” Read more>

■ Roger Brooks, Destination Development International “. . . logos and slogans are not brands . . . A brand is built on product — on the experience people expect to have when they arrive.” Read more>

From Rail-Volution
Portland, Oregon
■ On-Street Bicycle Parking!

From ASLA
Washington, D.C.
■ Street and Garden Furniture’s drinking fountain contains a V-shape channel instead of a bowl that allows excess water to cascade over the fountain edge into a pet water container. Then water cascades into the drainage system.
